ITAMI now ready for EV charging service "WeCharge" making the airport convenient for all EV users

Kansai Airports is delighted to announce the start of operation of "WeCharge," an EV charging service in the reserved car park space at Osaka International Airport (ITM).

With this service, EV car owners will be able to charge their cars at the airport using a mobile application and can complete the procedure from reserving a slot to making the payment. A total of 184 EV charging outlets, the largest number of EV chargers in any airport in Japan*, is now ready to meet the expected increase in demand for EVs in the future. The introduction of this service is expected to promote the usage of EVs and improve convenience for those who use airport car parks with vehicles.

Kansai Airports Group will continue to proactively adopt initiatives to reduce environmental impact and contribute to the realization of a sustainable society.

*As of February 2024

About WeCharge; EV charging service

WeCharge is an EV charging service provided by Ubiden, Inc. (Headquarter: Minato-ku, Tokyo, CEO & Co-Founder: Norio Yamaguchi). With a dedicated mobile application, users can easily register and make payments with a smartphone. This service is currently being expanded to condominiums, apartments, and buildings throughout Japan. The most significant feature of this service is that EVs can be charged wherever WeCharge is available, whether at hotels or commercial facilities.

Shaping a New Journey

Kansai Airports was established by a consortium made up of VINCI Airports and ORIX Corporation as its core members. Kansai Airports took over the operations of Kansai International Airport ("KIX") and Osaka International Airport ("ITAMI") from New Kansai International Airport Company ("NKIAC") and has been operating the two airports since April 1, 2016.

Kansai Airports Kobe, Kansai Airports' wholly-owned subsidiary, took over the operations of Kobe Airport ("KOBE") from Kobe City and started its business as an operating company on April 1, 2018.

Under the concept of "One Kansai Airports Group", Kansai Airports group strives to continuously improve its services for all airport guests through appropriate investments and efficient operations, with safety and security being the top priority. Kansai Airports group aims to maximize the potential of the three airports, for the benefit of the communities they serve.
